VESON NAUTICAL MAINTAINS CUSTOMER-CENTRIC FOCUS WITH EXPANDED STAFF AND NEW OFFICE

Augments Project Management Staff and Opens Singapore Office to Meet Customer Needs

BOSTON, MA and SINGAPORE– (September 11, 2007) – Veson Nautical, the US-based maritime software developer that delivers outstanding chartering, operations and accounting solutions for cargo transportation, today announced at the 23rd Asia-Pacific Petroleum Conference (APPEC) the opening of its newest location in Singapore and the addition of Jesse DiIanni, who will be leading the company’s project management team. Veson’s staff and location expansions are part of its ongoing Customer Care Program, which includes training, staff and post-implementation initiatives designed to provide enhanced support and services to its customer base.

John Veson, president of Veson Nautical remarked, “Part of our company’s mission is to provide consistent, reliable and immediate response to customer requests, regardless of location or time zone. Clearly our international customers will benefit greatly from round-the-clock support and services we now can offer from the Singapore office, particularly because of the exceptional skills of the two professionals leading the operation. In addition, we are looking forward to the contributions that Jesse DiIanni will make to our organization. We are working hard to build a world-class organization and feel that with Jesse coming on board we’ve taken another step in reaching that goal.”

Jesse DiIanni, Veson's Project Manager, is a seasoned professional with a broad and deep understanding of project lifecycles, customer management, and product implementations. Prior to joining Veson, Jesse was Project Manager for MFC Global Investment Systems, which is part of John Hancock. During that time, he was responsible for leading a data warehouse program that consolidated asset category information company-wide; managed projects with budgets of more than $8 million; and coordinated cross-site projects during the integration of John Hancock and Manulife. In his role as Veson's Project Manager, Jesse will work with customers pre-and-post implementation as well as provide support to other divisions within the company as needed. He is a graduate of the University of Vermont in Burlington, VT where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration.

In addition to increasing its project management staff, Veson Nautical has added a new geographic locale to benefit its customer base. The new Veson Nautical Corporation Representative Office is located at Level 36-01 UOB Plaza 1, Suite 36-17, 80 Raffles Place, Singapore. Directing the office will be Xiaobang Yue, an award-winning software developer who has worked at Veson for the past year and a half, and Robert Marx, who has been instrumental in training and facilitating many important customer installations. The new office will allow the company to provide 24 hour service and work closely with clients in the Asia Pacific region, including Veson's newest customer, Thoresen Thai Agencies. Yue and Marx will support Veson Nautical customers such as Rio Tinto, The Australian Wheat Board, ConocoPhillips Singapore, and Tesoro Singapore, among others.

Veson is also implementing new training and post-implementation programs for its customers. The program includes a number of elements, such as a series of Webinars and One-on-One Training Sessions to help customers utilize Veson's IMOS in a more efficient manner.

About Veson Nautical

Founded in 1979, Veson Nautical is a US-based maritime software developer whose user friendly, visual approach is based on best practices developed over its 27-year history. The company was an early pioneer in developing industry software solutions, and was the first to automate port-to-port Distance Tables for use in early Voyage Estimating applications. Today, the company's flagship Integrated Maritime Operations System (IMOS) optimizes profits by streamlining workflow and consolidating information across chartering, operations and accounting departments. From London to Houston and Singapore, marine transportation customers in the shipping, energy and defense sectors use Veson's flexible, easy-to-use and graphically outstanding solutions. The company may be reached via the web at www.veson.com or in their Boston, MA headquarters at (617) 723-2727.
